

Junk Mail

What Counts As Junk Mail?

Junk mail is any unwanted or unsolicited advertising or promotional material you get in your mailbox.

Why Is Junk Mail Making A Comeback?

It's a sign of the times. Most people do not trust the junk mail they get in their e-mail inboxes but will take time to look through letters and advertisements they get in their mailbox.

How Did I Get On All These Mailing Lists?

Anytime you make a purchase or pay for a service that requires you to provide your name and address, your information may end up on a mailing list. Mailing lists are often sold to other businesses, which may result in you getting mail from a company you have never contacted or made a purchase from.

How Do I Get Off These Mailing Lists?

1. To remove yourself or those under your care, you can be placed on a "Do Not Mail" list that is maintained by the Direct Marketing Association (DMA). Placing your name on the Do Not Mail list is effective for 10 years. There is a $2 processing fee. You can register online at: <https://dmachoice.thedma.org/register.php>, or you can mail in your registration. To mail in your registration, the processing fee costs a dollar more. You can click here for a copy of the form or send your name and address with a signature and a check or money order for the $3 processing fee to:

DMACHoice

DMA

PO Box 900

Cos Cob, CT 06807

2. To remove someone under your care, you can register with the DMA's "Do Not Contact List For Caregivers" at <https://www.ims-dm.com/cgi/dncc.php>. There is no charge to register for this list.
 3. To remove a deceased relative, you can register with the DMA's "Deceased Do Not Contact List" at <https://www.ims-dm.com/cgi/ddnc.php>. There is no charge to register for this list.
 4. To stop receiving pre-approved credit card solicitations, call 1-888-5OPT-OUT (1-888-567-8688) or visit <https://www.optoutprescreen.com/>.
