(Also called the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program)

WIC is a program designed to provide supplemental food to low-income pregnant, postpartum and breastfeeding women, infants and children until the age of five. The program provides a combination of nutrition education, supplemental foods, breastfeeding promotion and support, and referrals for health care.

Visit their website to find out how to receive extra help with food and other services when you're pregnant or have young children.

Child Care Resource and Referral Centers

(CCR&R's) assists both parents and providers. For parents, the CCR & R offers information on child care providers in your area and answers questions on what type of care is best for your family. Click on the link above to find out about day care options in your area.
