Computer Use and Internet Access:

Computers must be checked out at the circulation desk. A library card does not necessarily have to be produced just to use the computer, but fines that are over $1.00 must be paid before computer access can be granted. Also, materials that are a month overdue must be returned before computer access can be granted. Laptop computers may only be checked out by patrons who have a library card in our circulation system. Visitors may check out a computer using a visitor's library card.

The Chester County Library provides wireless access without charge. However, patrons who bring in their own laptops will not be able to print from the library printers.

Free internet access and computer use is available to all Chester County Library patrons except for printer use. Prices are charged at current rate. Patrons are responsible for paying for every page they or their child print.

Computer use is limited to library hours and is on a first-come, first-served basis. Use is limited to a one-hour session per user if anyone is waiting.
